二 市场背景

近年来,国内不少行业深陷“内卷”泥沼,市场竞争愈发白热化,企业面临错综复杂的发展形势,甚至到了“既分输赢、又定生死”的紧要关头。“内卷”是当前中国企业难以挣脱却又必须直面的困境,产品库存积压严重,生存压力巨大。越来越多的企业将目光投向海外市场,一定程度上也是被“内卷”逼出的“外拓”。

然而,“出海”企业尤其是中小微企业在“走出去”过程中依然面临诸多难点,主要包括法律法规、文化适应、市场信息、政治安全、人才短缺及供应链管理等方面。

2026“一带一路”中尼经贸博览会与其延伸出的:口岸仓储、口岸常设展厅、一站式中尼出口贸易服务、加德满都中国商贸城、中尼跨境电商平台、出口企业金融服务的各板块,让国内企业产品直达尼泊尔市场,不走弯路,为高质量共建“一带一路”助力。

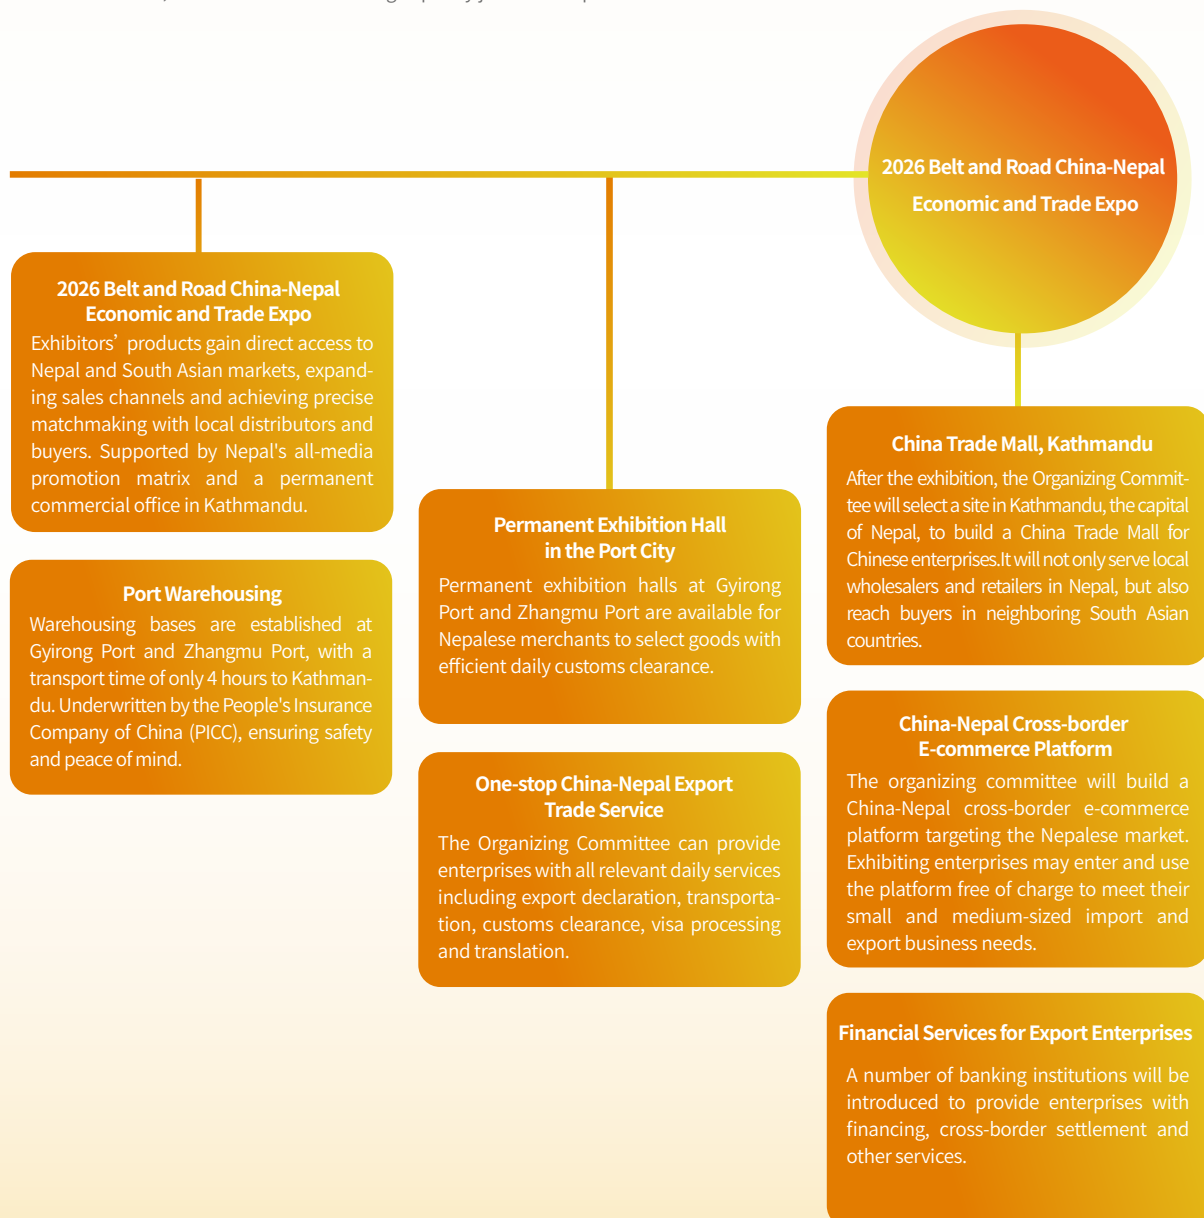

2. Market Background

In recent years, many domestic industries have been mired in involution, with increasingly fierce market competition. Enterprises are facing a complex development situation, even reaching a critical juncture where competition determines not only victory or defeat but also survival.

"Involution" has become a dilemma that Chinese enterprises can hardly break free from yet must face squarely: serious overstocking of products and enormous survival pressure. An increasing number of enterprises have turned their attention to overseas markets. To some extent, such global expansion is a "forced move" driven by domestic involution.

However, enterprises going global, especially micro, small and medium-sized enterprises, still encounter numerous difficulties in the process of "going global", mainly including laws and regulations, cultural adaptation, market information, political security, talent shortage, supply chain management and other aspects.

The 2026 "Belt and Road" China-Nepal Economic and Trade Fair, together with its extended sectors: port warehousing, permanent port exhibition halls, one-stop China-Nepal export trade services, China Trade Mall in Kathmandu, China-Nepal cross-border e-commerce platform, and financial services for export enterprises, enables domestic enterprises to directly access the Nepalese market without detours, and contributes to the high-quality joint development of the "Belt and Road Initiative".

三 尼泊尔概况

尼泊尔工业起步较晚，大部分工业制造业产品依赖进口，尼泊尔工业发展起步晚、规模小，机械化水平低，大部分工业产品依赖进口。主要工业产品包括纺织品、家电、仪器仪表、生活用品、木制品、皮制品、非金属矿产品、钢铁、食品、饮料等。中国目前是尼泊尔第二大贸易伙伴。尼泊尔作为“一带一路”的重要合作伙伴，连接着南亚和东南亚的重要枢纽国家，拥有丰富的自然资源和潜力巨大的经济发展机遇。

Nepal is a landlocked country in South Asia, located at the southern foot of the Himalayas and bordering China to the north. Its capital is Kathmandu, with a land area of approximately 147,000 square kilometers and a population of around 42 million. The country is divided into 7 federal provinces and is home to more than 130 ethnic groups.

Nepal boasts an extreme altitude range, stretching from tropical plains at 80 meters above sea level to snow-capped mountains over 8,000 meters high, forming a magnificent panorama of the Himalayas, including 12 peaks exceeding 8,000 meters such as Mount Qomolangma. The territory features diverse landscapes including tropical rainforests, snow mountains, canyons, lakes and glaciers. For instance, the combination of lakeside scenery and snow mountain reflections at Phewa Lake in Pokhara creates a visually stunning natural picture. This geographical diversity underpins a wide range of outdoor activities, including trekking, mountaineering, rock climbing, rafting and paragliding, making Nepal a paradise for adventure sports and a world-famous tourist destination.

Nepal's industrial sector started late, with a small scale and low level of mechanization. Most manufactured industrial products rely on imports. Its main industrial products include textiles, home appliances, instruments and meters, daily necessities, wooden products, leather goods, non-metallic mineral products, iron and steel, food and beverages. At present, China is Nepal's second largest trading partner. As an important cooperative partner of the Belt and Road Initiative, Nepal serves as a vital hub connecting South Asia and Southeast Asia, boasting abundant natural resources and enormous potential for economic development.

⑤ When greeting in Nepal, you can shake hands with men, but with women, you should just put your palms together and say "Namaste".

⑥ Nepalese people tend to dress conservatively, so ladies should avoid wearing revealing clothing such as tank tops.

⑧ Generally speaking, photos are allowed in temples, pagodas, and monuments, but it is best to ask the relevant personnel before taking pictures and obtain their permission.
